How can Aviation Tax Consultants help maximize the financial benefit from your aircraft purchase?

Acquiring an aircraft may generate tremendous tax advantages, if the acquisition is properly structured. The experts at Aviation Tax Consultants can assist you in acquiring a new aircraft in the most tax efficient manner. Choosing a competent aviation tax advisor is an important decision. When working with Aviation Tax Consultants you can expect:

- To work directly with our owners and decision makers, Daniel Cheung and Fred McCarter.
- A continuity of personnel that is critical in the implementation and the monitoring of your aircraft ownership structure.
- To receive prompt, professional customer service that is unparalleled in the industry.
- To benefit from our ability to work closely with your current tax and legal advisors.

The expertise of ATC will allow you to:

- Maximize income tax benefits through proper ownership structure.
- Minimize and possibly eliminate sales tax.
- Maintain compliance with FAA regulations.
- Expand the business use opportunities available with your aircraft due to our ability to think “outside the box” and our understanding of general aviation.
- Properly document personal use so tax deductions are not jeopardized.

ATC has a solid reputation in the general aviation industry. We have great working relationships with manufacturers, financing professionals and insurance brokers. Our clients benefit from our ability to expedite the purchasing process. Below is a small sampling of testimonials from our clients:

ATC was instrumental in the purchase process of my aircraft. Not only did they help me realize the income tax savings available on the ownership of my aircraft, but I was also able to purchase it without paying sales tax on the purchase price! ATC was professional and knowledgeable throughout the entire process and continues to be our constant source of aircraft taxation information.

Thanks so much for the prompt follow up on our discussions over the past week or so. And thanks also for talking with (the people) who handle my normal year-end tax work. It must have been a good conversation because they whole heartedly endorsed both your strategy and your involvement as a specialist in these kinds of things.
